

INTER-CLUB GOLF MATCH.

RICHMOND COUNTY MEN WIN IN A ONE-SIDED GAME AT PATERSON.

The Morris County Club Links Opened for the season "Honey" competition at West Chester-Interclub Play at Fairfield and a contest in Orange.

An interesting, although one-sided match, was decided on the Paterson links yesterday, in the first inter-club competition of the season near New York. The players were teams of six from the Richmond County Country Club and the Paterson Golf Club. The visitors had these sterling golfers, Park, Armstrong, Chadwick, and Patterson, and the home team, the best of the home team are not as yet in good practice, the Richmond county players had matters all their own way. As the appended summary shows, the score was twenty-five holes to nothing in favor of the Staten Island delegation.

"Col. Roger" was the formidable antagonist of the field at the opening competition of the Westchester Road Golf Club. The bogey or fixed score, for the eighteen holes was eighty strokes, which was the mark the players were pitted against. G. F. Tiffany, who showed some driving, and in very accurate putting, played the bogey score by one stroke. He made the fifth hole in three, an extremely good showing. Dr. W. C. Deming and to bogey, four strokes, John Vandercorke by five, and Frank Perry by six. None of the others handled in par. There was a crowd of the members and their friends on the links.

Although the new club house is not finished, the formal opening of the season was held at the Fairfield County Golf Club. No scores were kept, but the players were pitted against the 210 class, beating all the contestants from this side of the bridge. The sport was extremely spirited from first to last, every body driving for the front as though a million dollars were at stake.

RACING TO ROAD WAGONS.

A Large Crowd Saw the Trotters Perform at the Parkway Driving Club of Brooklyn.

One of the largest crowds that the club house of the Parkway Driving Club of Brooklyn ever accommodated saw the opening races in the inter-club series at the half-mile track on Ocean Parkway yesterday. All of the Brooklyn road riders were there, together with a large delegation from New York and other places, and their limits in housing all the flyers that went down the road. New York and Brooklyn men divided the honors of the day. James Butler, the President of the Driving Club of New York, winning the 2:24 race with the well-bred bay stallion Baron Cren, while Frederick Bedford of the Parkway Club drove Capt. Henry H. Brown's black gelding Gerald to the front in the 2:30 class, beating all the contestants from this side of the bridge. The sport was extremely spirited from first to last, every body driving for the front as though a million dollars were at stake.

In a special race to sulky, E. T. Bedford's great mare Wanda defeated Duke and Keno F. In rather hollow fashion, trotting each of her miles in 2:25. Keno F. would probably have made a close contest for the Piedmont mare, if the driver had been able to keep him on his stride.

In the tangle of road rigs, incident to getting away from the track, Dennis Harrington's noted trotting stallion Capt. Lyons, 2:17 1/2, became incensed and reared up, and the owner's road wagon and slightly cutting the animal's legs.

One of the features of the day was an exhibition mile to road wagon in 2:28 by E. T. Bedford's well-known trotting team, Giles and 2:13 1/2, and Black Horse, 2:12, and also entered in the 2:30 class, beating all the contestants from this side of the bridge. The sport was extremely spirited from first to last, every body driving for the front as though a million dollars were at stake.
